About Ableton

There's a global community of music makers using Ableton's creative tools and resources. Creating and performing music with Ableton software and hardware instruments: Live, Push, Link and Note. And sharing and exploring ideas through Loop, Learning Music and Learning Synths.

Ableton was set up in Berlin in 1999 by the same musicians who lead the company today. Now it's made up of around 500 employees across the world, working together on things that inspire people to get started and go further as music makers.
